General regulations for shows, trials and competitions

*These regulations will apply from 1 January 2012 until 31 December 2016.
Any changes required as a result of Swedish legislation or FCI regulations will be found at SKK's website www.skk.se.*

General regulations for shows, trials and competitions organized by Svenska Kennelklubben (SKK, Swedish Kennel Club), by provincial kennel clubs and breed clubs affiliated with SKK, and by breed clubs affiliated by agreement. In case of interpreting of the show regulations only the Swedish version is valid.

The following General regulations apply to official (SKK Dog Registered) shows, trials and competitions arranged by the Swedish Kennel Club (SKK), by provincial kennel clubs and breed clubs affiliated with SKK, and by breed clubs affiliated by agreement. In addition, the applicable parts of SKK's rules and the regulations issued by authorities also apply.

Bringing dogs together for shows, trials and competitions places requirements on both the organizer and dog owners/handlers in order to be able to maintain good protection against infectious diseases and harm to humans, owners' own dogs and other animals.

The dog's welfare always takes top priority at all SKK events. It is also important that the results of judging are not affected by undue circumstances.

Participants and functionaries are obliged to act or perform in such a way that they do not harm or act against SKK or its member organisations, and not to act in such a way that they affect other dogs' chances of being judged fairly at trials, shows or competitions, and not to make disparaging comments about other dogs, officials or participants.

All dogs must be made available for the examinations and taking of samples that may be necessary in connection with checking for doping and other undue circumstances.

When a veterinary certificate is referred to for a dog, this must be issued on an SKK-approved form (e.g. Swedish Veterinary Association form F145 or equivalent). The following details must be included in order for the certificate to be accepted: breed, registered name, registration number, ID number, description of injury, whether this has been acquired, what the intervention relates to, action, reason for action and, if a body part has been removed, a comment on its appearance. An original copy of the certificate must always be brought to the show.

Organizers are entitled to take copies of veterinary certificates.

Any person who has been excluded by the SKK's Disciplinary Board from the SKK organisation or who has been banned from taking part in shows, trials and competitions by a Nordic kennel club or the FCI or has been banned from handling and keeping animals by the authorities, may not own, enter or handle dogs at trials and competitions. Such person may not own, enter or show a dog at a show or take part with a progeny group or breeders group. This also applies to any person who has chosen to leave the SKK organisation during an ongoing investigation by SKK's Disciplinary Board, meaning that the Disciplinary Board cannot examine the matter. Dog owners are responsible for dogs not being shown/handled by a person who has been excluded or has been banned from handling and keeping animals by the authorities.

Dogs which, in the six months prior to the show, trial or competition, have been owned by a person who has been excluded or banned by the SKK's Disciplinary Board from entering, bringing dogs to, or allowing dogs to be brought to shows, trials or competitions may not take part.

Results awarded in official classes will be recorded by SKK. Only registered dogs can be named champion.

1. Vaccinations

Participating foreign dogs must be brought into Sweden in accordance with Swedish import requirements for dogs in relation to rabies vaccinations and deworming against tapeworms (echinococcus).

Participating dogs must be vaccinated against distemper as follows:

- Dogs under the age of one (1) year: at the age of at least ten (10) weeks.
- Dogs over the age of one (1) year: the dog must be vaccinated at the age of at least ten (10) months, and not more than four (4) years ago.

- First-time vaccination must be carried out at least fourteen (14) days before the day of the trial, competition and/or show.

Checks may be carried out to ensure that the applicable import and vaccination requirements have been followed.

In addition, SKK recommends that participating dogs are also vaccinated against parvovirus infection and parainfluenza (kennel cough).

2. Identification number

Dogs must have an identification number in order to take part in an official show, official trial or competition. (This also applies to crossbreed and unregistered dogs.)

The identification may be carried out by tattooing or with a microchip implant that complies with ISO standards 11784 and 11785.

Breed clubs are entitled to decide that only tattooing shall be acceptable at the club's events.

Participants that provide their own microchip scanner are entitled to take part with microchipped dogs, regardless of whether the organiser has decided that only tattooing shall be acceptable.

At shows organised by the SKK General Committee or an SKK provincial kennel club, the organiser is responsible for providing a microchip scanner.

Identification checks may be carried out by random inspections.

3. Responsibility

During shows, trials or competitions, dog owners or their representatives are responsible in accordance with the Swedish Supervision of Dogs and Cats Act.

Those taking part in shows, trials or competitions are responsible for dogs being kept in such a way that they cannot harm themselves or others. Under no circumstances may dogs be kept in cars, dog cages, tents or similar in such conditions that they could come to harm.

If the dog owner or their representatives during the show, trial, competition or club organized activity keeps a dog in contravention of the above, he shall be reported by the duty functionary to the Kennel Club on a specific form. Examples of functionaries are: organizing committee, show manager, veterinary in duty, trial or competitive leaders, judges, ring steward, instructor and as well figurant to trials. It is incumbent upon the organizer to ensure that the form is available at the event.

Organising clubs discharge themselves and their officials from all liability for harm or loss that dog owners may sustain in connection with shows, trials or competitions. The same applies to damage caused by dogs during shows, trials or competitions if such damage is not demonstrably a result of obviously inadequate organisation.

Physically punishing dogs is forbidden.

4. Force majeure

The organiser is not obliged to refund entry fees if the event is cancelled as a result of force majeure.

Neither SKK nor its member organisations are responsible for loss or direct or indirect costs caused as a result of an event not being held. Nor are elected representatives, employees or officials of SKK or its member organisations who have made a decision on such an event responsible for loss or direct or indirect costs.

5. Unacceptable behaviour

Dogs that demonstrate unacceptable behaviour during shows, trials, competitions or activities organised by the club by showing aggression, attacking or otherwise appearing to be threatening towards people and/or other dogs may be dismissed from the venue.

Specific reporting obligations for judges and officials

Serving judges and officials are obliged to report to SKK in writing using a specific form if a dog demonstrates unacceptable behaviour during a show, trial, competition or activity organised by the club in accordance with the above. The organiser is responsible for ensuring that this form is available at the event.

Examples of officials include: Show Committee members, Show Managers, Vets on duty, trial or competition organisers, Ring Stewards, Instructors and Figurants at trials.

6. Prohibited from taking part in shows, trials and competitions

Dogs that have been Disqualified or awarded 0 grade with regard to mental attributes on three (3) occasions are not entitled to take part.

Dogs may not take part earlier than two months after completing a period in quarantine.

General clause and the possibility of dispensation

Dogs that have been taken out of Sweden and that have had their ears cropped, their tails docked or any other procedure carried out that is not permitted in Sweden, may not take part after being brought back into Sweden. This also applies to puppies from bitches that have been taken out of Sweden, if the puppies were born within one year of the day on which the bitch was taken out of Sweden.

The SKK General Committee may grant dispensation from this regulation if it is clear that the dog was not taken out of Sweden in order to circumvent the regulation on disqualification from taking part, or if special reasons exist.

7. Doping and other undue circumstances

The showing of injured or sick dogs is not permitted. Nor is the showing of dogs which have been subjected to measures aimed at improperly altering their appearance, performance or character, or intended to conceal signs of injury or illness.

Doping by a dog is regulated by the State Board of Agriculture regulations and general advice about training and competition with animals, SVFS 2011:24 item number L17, chapter 7, §§ 1-2 and appendix 2 to these regulations.

In addition, for detailed regulations outlining which treatments or actions are not permitted in the SKK-organization, see the National regulations against dog doping. Rules for applying for exemption can also be found from SKK organization's doping regulations.

It is the obligation of the person responsible for a dog to ascertain how a specific treatment or other measure may affect the eligibility of the dog to take part in a show, trial or competition.

If the show committee/trial management/competition management decides to carry out tests with the aim of investigating the issue of doping or other prohibited actions, the person responsible for a dog is obliged to make the dog in question available for testing and for any further examination resulting from the test. The manipulation of samples for doping analysis is forbidden.

Detailed rules for taking samples, etc., can be found in the National regulations against dog doping.

Neutered male dogs/bitches

Male dogs that have been surgically neutered are granted general dispensation to take part in trials, competitions or shows. In order to take part in shows and external assessment, certification is required in accordance with the introduction to the general regulations (issued prior to neutering but after the age of 6 months) to confirm that the dog had two normally developed and positioned testicles prior to the operation.

Male dog that has been neutered by medical treatment is not allowed a dispensing for participating in trials, competition or shows.

Female dog that has been neutered by continuously medical treatment or surgical treatment is allowed to a general dispensation for participation in proportion to the National regulations against dog doping.

Specific regulations for shows organised by SKK, by provincial kennel clubs and breed clubs affiliated with SKK, and by breed clubs affiliated by agreement.

These regulations will apply from 1 January 2012 until 31 December 2016. Any changes required as a result of a joint NKU decision, Swedish legislation or FCI regulations will be found at SKK's website (www.skk.se).

The following regulations apply to official (SKK Dog Register) shows arranged by the Swedish Kennel Club (SKK), by provincial kennel clubs and breed clubs affiliated with SKK, and by breed clubs affiliated by agreement. In addition, the applicable parts of SKK's rules and the regulations issued by authorities also apply.

Dogs taking part in shows must demonstrate good mental and physical health, which also means that there must not be signs of any form of illness. A dog may therefore only take part in a show provided that, on the day of the show, it does not present any danger of spreading infection. If the organiser has reason to doubt this, the organiser is entitled to request a veterinary certificate, in accordance with the introduction to the general regulations, confirming the dog's current status.

If a participating dog has suffered any form of external injury, a veterinary certificate must be shown describing the intervention carried out, and an original copy of the certificate must always be brought to the show.

Organisers are entitled to take copies of veterinary certificates.

It is always up to the judge to evaluate the extent to which any defect that has arisen and been rectified does not have a disproportionate effect on the conformation of the dog in relation to the FCI's standard.

8. Show Manager and Show Committee

At a show there must be a Show Manager and a Show Committee, appointed by the organising club.

The Show Manager is responsible for the technical arrangements and order being maintained. The Show Manager may not show any dogs at the show.

The Show Committee must be well acquainted with the applicable show regulations, and must consist of at least three members (including one chairman), and is responsible for the show being held in accordance with applicable regulations.

During show hours, at least one of the members of the Show Committee must be present at the show venue.

Show Committee members, joint owners of their kennels and members of their households may not enter or show dogs at the show. Serving judges and Ring Stewards may not be Show Committee members for the show in question.

9. Judges and other officials

Exhibitors should be made aware that there may be one student judge (first phase) and one student judge (second phase), or two student judges (first phase) in the ring during judging.

Judges may not own or show dogs, and may not have breeders groups, at a show at which the judge himself or herself is judging. Breeder/progeny groups that are generated automatically by computer programs may be included in the catalogue, but may not take part in a show at which the judge himself or herself is judging.

Student judges may not own or show dogs, and may not have breeders groups, on the day of being on duty, and may not on any other day during the show own or show dogs under judges for whom they have been on duty or will be on duty.

Dogs that, during the last six months prior to the show, trial or competition, have been owned, groomed, trained, cared for or shown by judges or a person in the judge's household may not be judged by the judge in question. This also applies in other situations where confidence in the judge's impartiality could be called into question.

Ring Stewards and student Ring Stewards may not show dogs on the day of being on duty, and may not on any other day during the show exhibit dogs under judges for whom they have been on duty or will be on duty. This also applies to the finals (group and Best In Show judging).

Other show officials, members of the Club Committee of organising clubs or similar are entitled to enter or show dogs, even if they themselves are on duty during the show. If a show official shows a dog, the official's badge must not be worn visibly.

Judges, Ring Stewards and other officials who have been notified by SKK's Disciplinary Board that they have been excluded from competing, i.e. that they have been excluded from entering or showing dogs at shows, trials or competitions, may not be on duty during the period to which the exclusion relates.

10. Change of judges

In the event of a change of judge, dog owners shall be notified in writing. If the change has been made too late to be able to notify owners by ordinary mail, the change shall be advertised at the entrance and at the show ring in question.

In those cases where a change in judge is made after the end of the entry period, the entry fee may be refunded (minus the administrative fee – see point 20). However, in such a case, a written request, the ring number card and the receipt must be submitted no later than on the day of the show before the judging of the breed in question begins.

In the event of a change in judge for unofficial puppy classes, entry fees will not be refunded.

If when advertising the show the reserve judge who replaces the advertised judge is named, entry fees will not be refunded.

11. Veterinary inspection

At shows for which 400 or more dogs have been entered, a registered veterinary surgeon shall be responsible for anti-infection protection, e.g. by checking exercise areas, premises and vaccination certificates, and by inspecting the dogs taking part. At shows for which fewer than 400 dogs have been entered, a person appointed by the show committee shall carry out these checks.

12. Injury or illness

Dog owners are responsible for treatment for any injury or illness that arises in connection with a show unless the show committee decides otherwise.

13. Testicular status

Male dogs that do not have normally developed and normally positioned testicles may not take part in official classes at shows. It is the judge's responsibility to check the testicular status of male dogs.

Male dogs that have been surgically neutered are entitled to take part in shows with a certificate to confirm that the dog had two normally developed and positioned testicles after the age of 6 months but before the operation. This certificate must be issued on an SKK-approved form in accordance with the introduction to the general regulations, and an original copy must always be brought to the show.

Organisers are entitled to take copies of veterinary certificates.

14. Treatment of coat, nose or skin

Dogs whose coat, nose or skin has been treated with substances intended to change the colour or texture thereof may not take part in the show. This includes the use of colorants, hair spray, gel, mousse, chalk, talcum powder, etc. Only preparations which are clearly intended to aid combing/brushing (conditioner/conditioning spray) and/or reduce static electricity may be used on an otherwise untreated coat prior to taking part in the show.

15. Attempts to influence judging

No attempt may be made to reduce or improve dogs' chances of being judged fairly.

Obviously influencing the dog during judging with the help of anyone inside or outside the ring is also forbidden.

Exhibitors may not start conversations with the judge during judging.

Unauthorised persons/dogs may not be present in the ring while judging is in progress.

16. General points of order

Muzzled dogs may not be present at the show venue.

Exhibitors or their representatives are obliged to comply with specified points of procedure and any additional points of procedure issued by the show's officials. Breaching these regulations may result in dismissal from the show, taking away the dog's grade and – in more serious cases – disciplinary measures. In such a case, the organiser is entitled to dismiss the person in question from the show venue.

At events that take place within a clearly demarcated area, the organiser is entitled to dismiss any person that has been excluded from the SKK organisation by SKK's Disciplinary Board. This also applies to any person who has chosen to leave the SKK organisation during an ongoing investigation by SKK's Disciplinary Board, meaning that the Disciplinary Board cannot examine the matter.

Exhibitors' tents should be positioned in accordance with the organiser's instructions, but no closer than two metres from the rings and only in an area that has been assigned/approved by the organiser.

The ban on smoking in the show ring applies to both exhibitors and officials.

During judging, exhibitors must wear their ring number cards with the numbers clearly visible.

Exhibitors may not advertise names (the name of a kennel, the name of the dog, etc.) during judging. Clothing or other items bearing the name of a kennel, dog, etc. may not be worn or carried in a breed ring or final ring during judging.

17. Membership requirements

At shows organised by SKK's General Committee, dogs belonging to members of one of SKK's provincial kennel clubs, breed clubs or recognised foreign kennel clubs from the country where the dog owner is resident, may take part. If a dog is owned by more than one person, all owners must be members of one of the above clubs.

At shows organised by an SKK provincial kennel club, only dogs belonging to members of one of SKK's provincial kennel clubs or a recognised foreign kennel club from the country where the dog owner is resident, may take part. If a dog is owned by more than one person, all owners must be members of one of SKK's provincial kennel clubs or a recognised foreign kennel club.

At shows organised by SKK's General Committee or by an SKK provincial kennel club, members of the Sveriges hundungdom (Swedish Dog Youth Club) may take part up until the age of 18 with their own or co-owned dogs without having to be a member of one of SKK's provincial kennel clubs.

At shows organised by SKK's breed clubs, only dogs owned by members of the organising club may take part. If so stated on announcing the show and in the show programme, members of an SKK provincial kennel club, an SKK breed club, the Sveriges hundungdom or a recognised foreign kennel club from the country where the dog owner is resident, may however take part without having to be a member of the organising club. In such a case, the organiser may charge a higher entry fee.

Anyone who takes part with a progeny group or breeders group must be a member of an SKK provincial kennel club, an SKK breed club or a recognised foreign kennel club.

In this context, the person who according to a written agreement has the showing rights for the dog also counts in certain cases as an owner of the dog.

Within a single family or household, one of the owners can be a full paying member, with the others paying reduced rates (family members).

Membership requirements do not apply for owners who have only entered dogs in unofficial puppy classes.

18. Origin and registration requirements

The following are entitled to take part in shows:

a) Dogs born in Sweden which, at the end of the entry period, have been assigned a registration number in SKK's register and for which there is an approved FCI standard for the breed, or where the breed has been granted dispensation to take part.

In order to take part in an unofficial puppy class, it is enough for the puppy to be under registration.

b) Dog born outside Sweden and at the end of the entry period has been assigned a registration number in the SKK or recognized foreign kennel club register and in which an approved FCI standard for the breed exists or in which the breed was granted dispensation to participation.

Swedish owned dog shall at the end of the entry period be registered in the SKK. Swedish owned dogs that are born before 2001-01-01 may have a Norwegian registration number.

In order to take part in an unofficial puppy class, it is enough for the puppy to be under registration.

19. Entering and entry fees

Dogs that have been entered with incorrect details will be disqualified. SKK is also entitled to cancel results for any dog for which the information provided on entering was created in order to circumvent SKK's regulations.

Dogs must take part using the name under which they are registered in Sweden or abroad.

Dogs that are owned or co-owned by a person living in Sweden must be entered with a Swedish or Norwegian registration number (see point 18b).

For foreign dogs, a copy of the proof of registration including origin information must accompany the show entry. In those cases where a trial merit is required in order to take part in the working class, a working class certificate (WCC) must also accompany the entry.

Note that if a foreign dog is co-owned by a person living in Sweden, the dog must be re-registered with SKK before the end of the entry period.

Entry must take place using the stipulated form, which must be postmarked no later than the date on which the entry period ends, by which time the prescribed entry fee must have been paid.

If an entry and the fully paid fee have not been received within the prescribed time, the organiser is entitled to reject the entry. Dogs that are not included in the show catalogue may not take part in the show. However, dogs that were entered correctly but which were not included in the show catalogue due to an error made by a third party (e.g. Bankgirot, PlusGirot or the catalogue printer) may take part in the show under a "B" number.

Information about this must be advertised at the ring, clearly announced by the Ring Steward and listed in the list of results.

Progeny groups and breeders groups

The show organiser is obliged to notify breeders and the owners of stud dogs/brood bitches if a breeder/progeny group exists.

20. Refunding entry fees

Paid entry fees will be refunded (a fee of a maximum of SEK 40 per dog may be deducted to cover administrative costs) if:

- a) dog is unable to take part due to the negligence of the organising club (but see point 4, Force majeure).
- b) there is a change in judge – see point 10. (In the event of a change in judge in an unofficial puppy class, entry fees will not be refunded.)
- c) if the judge's decision is declared invalid, provided that the decision to invalidate the judge's decision was not based on circumstances for which the owner or handler was responsible (but see point 21).
- d) the entry was rejected by the organiser, e.g. due to the dog not being entitled to take part or the entry or entry fee arriving too late.

If a dog is unable to take part as a result of injury/illness, entry fees will not be refunded.

21. Objections

Judges' decisions can be changed in the following cases:

- If an error of a technical nature has been made.
- If the dog was not entitled to take part in accordance with the applicable regulations.

Participants may not therefore object against judges' judgements and free discretion.

Requests to change a judge's decision will be considered:

- Following an objection from an exhibitor whose entitlement is affected by the result in question.
- Following a notification from the Show Committee or from the judge who made the decision.
- Following a decision by SKK to deal with the issue of changing a certain judge's decision for some other reason.

Objections against judge's decisions must be made in writing. They should be submitted to the committee before the end of the show on the same day that the judge's decision in question is announced, and should be accompanied by an objection fee corresponding to double the open class entry fee.

If the objection is submitted by someone who is not entitled to do so, or if the objection is not accompanied by the stipulated objection fee, the objection shall be immediately rejected. Such a decision will be made by the Show Committee.

If the objection is accepted for consideration, the Show Committee must announce its decision in writing within seven (7) days of the end of the show. If the Show Committee is unable to announce its decision within the prescribed time, e.g. due to the results of such testing as mentioned in the introduction to General regulations for shows, trials and competitions not being available, the Show Committee shall refer the final decision to SKK.

If the objection is upheld, the dog's grade will be deleted from the reported results, and the entry fee will be refunded together with the objection fee.

Of the organizing committee declined objections may be appealed in writing within 30 days to the SKK's Show Committee.

Changes to the list of results may be made within two (2) years from the date of the show.

Rules for judging

See also the relevant breed for specific regulations.

22. Quality grading

Quality grading means that the conformation and mental attributes of a dog are assessed and graded in accordance with the specifications in the breed standard*, without any comparison being made with other dogs taking part in the class. During the quality grading, several dogs may be awarded the same quality grade.

 See also the individual breed standard.*

In classes where quality grading is carried out, the following quality grades may be awarded:

Excellent

May only be awarded to a dog which comes very close to the ideal standard of the breed, which is presented in excellent condition, displays a harmonious, well-balanced temperament, is of high class and has excellent posture. Its superior characteristics in respect of its breed permit that minor imperfections can be ignored; it must however have the typical features of its sex.

Very good

May only be awarded to a dog which possesses the typical features of its breed, which has well-balanced proportions and is in correct condition. A few minor faults may be tolerated but none of a morphological nature. This award can only be granted to a dog that shows class.

Good

Is to be awarded to a dog that possesses the main features of its breed however showing faults provided these are not concealed.

Sufficient

Must be awarded to a dog which corresponds adequately to its breed, without possessing the generally accepted characteristics or whose physical condition leaves something to be desired.

Disqualified

To be awarded to dogs which:

- a) are untypical of the breed in appearance, or have faults that are listed as disqualifying faults in the breed standard.
- b) have such anatomical defects that have a negative impact on the dog's health and soundness, particularly with regard to the origin/function/use of the breed.
- c) are male dogs that do not have normally developed and normally positioned testicles.
- d) demonstrate aggression or a clear tendency to flight in the ring, i.e. a dog which has panicked and shied away from the judge, and where it has not been possible to approach the dog in a natural manner.

The judge should specifically enter Disqualified in the list of results if this has been awarded as a result of d) above.

Other deviations in mental attributes should be judged in accordance with the requirements of the breed standard.

The reason for awarding Disqualified should always be entered on the judge's report and in the list of results.

Cannot be judged (kan inte prissättas – KEP)

Dogs that are shown in such a condition that the judge cannot form a sound opinion of their quality may, in exceptional cases, be awarded Cannot be judged (KEP). Examples of this include dogs that have obvious deficiencies in show and ring culture (such as being unaccustomed to walking on a lead or having a puppyish temperament) or are shown in poor condition (are excessively underweight or overweight). The same may apply to a dog that has had its hair cut so recently that the judge cannot form a sound opinion of the quality of its hair type. A dog may also be shown so badly as a result of injury that its movements are hard to judge.

The following quality grades are awarded in competition classes:

Certificate quality (Ck)

A dog that is typically and correctly built in every respect, with such outstanding merits and such insignificant faults that it is an excellent example of breeding, may be deemed to be of certificate quality (Ck). Certificate quality can only be allocated to a dog that has received Excellent. Certificate quality can be awarded to as many dogs as the judge consider to be of such quality.

Honour Prize (Hp)

Exceptionally promising puppies can be awarded an Honour Prize (Hp). In progeny classes and breeders classes, Honour Prizes are awarded to groups of uniform and excellent quality.

23. Competition classes

In competition classes, only dogs that have been awarded at least Very good, i.e. Excellent or Very good.

Nota bene! If at least four dogs received the quality award excellent, the dogs with very good will not be taken into the ring for competition assessing.

Competition class involves the dogs taking part in the class being ranked 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

24. Arrival too late for judging

It is the exhibitor's own responsibility to be at the show ring in plenty of time before judging for the class entered begins.

Dogs that arrive too late for judging, i.e. once the last dog in the class has been judged, can be given a quality grading by the judge once the entire breed has been judged. However, such a dog cannot take part in a competition class.

Dogs that arrive too late for competition assessment may not take part in this, and cannot therefore take part in the continued judging of the breed.

25. Obligation to take part in an entered class

Dogs are obliged to take part in the class for which they have been entered.

RULES FOR JUDGING

Since entry is binding, it is not permitted to transfer a dog to another class after having entered, unless the reason is due to:

- a) an obvious error on the part of the organiser or due to a printing error in the catalogue.
- b) the dog having become a Swedish show champion after entering.
- c) the dog having achieved a working trial or field trial merit after entering which entitles the dog to take part in the working class.
- d) the dog having achieved the status of Swedish show champion before entering, but wrongly being entered into a class other than champion class alternative working class (bkl/jkl) or veteran class. (Dogs that are Swedish show champions are not entitled to take part in a class other than champion class alternative working class (bkl/jkl), if the dog holds the trial qualification that requires, or veteran class, if the dog the date of the show obtains the age of 8.)

Dogs of breeds with final measurement after the age of 15 months are permitted to change size varieties up until the dog has been finally measured, in accordance with the rules for the breed in question (see the specific regulations for each breed group).

Exhibitors, whose dogs will take part in a class other than that stated in the show catalogue in accordance with the above, shall inform this to the ring steward before the judging of the classes has been initiated.

A copy of the WCC (working class certificate) for foreign-owned dogs must be submitted to the Ring Steward where applicable.

Exhibitors who have appeared in the ring for judging of the dog in the class for which it was registered are obliged to take part in this class and possibly subsequent competition class.

Certificate

In the Best Male/Best Bitch class, a certificate is awarded to the best dog that is entitled to compete for a certificate.

The following may not compete for a certificate:

- Swedish show champion
- dogs that have received the necessary certificate for Swedish show champion.

Nota bene! At least one certificate must be won after the age of 24 months.

For breeds where a working trial or field trial merit is required in order to win a certificate (see specific regulations), a certificate will be awarded to the best dog in the Best Male class and the Best Bitch class that meets the trial merit requirements.

Only one (1) certificate is awarded per sex. In addition, one (1) reserve certificate is awarded per sex (to the second best dog that is entitled to compete for the certificate). For those breeds that have a trial merit requirement, the dog that is awarded the reserve certificate must also meet the trial merit requirement.

If none of the four placed dogs in the Best Male or Best Bitch class are entitled to compete for the certificate, the certificate will be awarded to the dog that the judge consider to be the best of the unplaced dogs, and the reserve certificate will be awarded to the dog that the judge consider to be the second best of the unplaced dogs in the Best Male or Best Bitch class.

It is the exhibitor's responsibility to notify the Ring Steward if the dog in question is not entitled to compete for the certificate.

Certificat d'Aptitude au Championnat International de Beauté (CACIB)

At international shows, male dogs and bitches shall compete individually for international show certificates, the CACIB and the reserve CACIB.

The CACIB can be proposed for the best dog in the Best Male class and the Best Bitch class that is entitled to compete for the CACIB.

The reserve CACIB can be proposed for the second best dog in the Best Male class and the Best Bitch class that is entitled to compete for the CACIB.

The FCI will not confirm the CACIB if it is proposed for dogs that:

- have already been awarded one of the titles IntUCH, CIB or CIE by the FCI
- do not have three generations of parentage registered in an FCI-approved Dog Register

Dogs competing in a junior or veteran class are not entitled to compete for the CACIB.

Nota bene! A number of breeds have specific regulations for the CACIB.

Nota bene! The FCI is the organisation that makes the ultimate decision on awarding the CACIB.

40. Best of Breed and Best of Opposite Sex (BIR and BIM)

In this class participates the best male dog and the best bitch from the Best Male class and the Best Bitch class. In this class, the Best of Breed (BIR) and Best of Opposite Sex (BIM) are chosen.

A dog that has been named Best of Breed goes on to compete in the finals for Best in Group (BIG).

41. Progeny class (avelskl)

This class is open to:

- Male dogs taking part with a group of four offspring from at least two bitches.
- Bitches taking part with a group of four offspring.

The stud dog/brood bitch must take part in the progeny class and be presented together with the group.

The stud dog/brood bitch must have been awarded at least the quality grade Good or 3rd prize at the current show or a previous show. All the offspring included in the group must be judged at the current show in an official class, and shall at least be assigned to the quality price Very good.

A single stud dog/brood bitch may only take part with one progeny group for the breed/breed variety.

The offspring included in the group must be of the same breed variety (hair type and/or size), except for breeds where the breed varieties compete for joint BIR.

Competition assessment is applied in this class, which involves the groups taking part in the class being ranked 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

The group's average quality in terms of uniformity of type and overall impression are decisive, rather than the individual quality of the dogs included in the group.

Groups of uniform and excellent quality are awarded Hp. The best progeny group with Hp goes on to compete in the finals.

Owners of stud dogs/brood bitches should notify the owners of the relevant offspring as far in advance as possible that the dogs will be included in the progeny group and will take part in the progeny class. It is good cynological practice to take part with one's dog in a progeny class. Owners of stud dogs/brood bitches must notify the Ring Steward of desired participation.

42. Breeders class (uppflkl)

This class is open to a group of four dogs of the same breed or breed variety (size and/or size hair type), with the same kennel name or which are bred by a single person or group of people.

If more than one person is the breeder, they should all be named as breeders. If a person both carries out his or her own breeding and is included with other people as a breeder of another litter, dogs from litters from these different instances of breeding may not be combined in a single breeders group.

A single breeder may only take part with one group of the same breed or breed variety. The dogs included in the group must be of the same breed variety (hair type and/or size), except for breeds where the breed varieties compete for joint Best of Breed.

All the dogs included in the group must be judged at the current show in an official class, and shall at least be assigned to the quality price Very good.

Competition assessment is applied in this class, which involves the groups taking part in the class being ranked 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

The group's average quality in terms of uniformity of type and overall impression are decisive, rather than the individual quality of the dogs included in the group.

Groups of uniform and excellent quality are awarded Hp. The best breeders group with Hp goes on to compete in the finals.

Breeders should notify the owners of the relevant dogs as far in advance as possible that the dogs will be included in the breeders group and will take part in the breeder class. It is good cynological practice to take part with one's dog in a breeder class. Breeders, or their representatives, must notify the ring secretary of desired participation.
