How to Enter the European Dog Show 2026

Step by Step Guide

www.eds2026.se

Open the entry page

The screenshot shows the homepage of the European Dog Show 2026 website. The header includes the event logo, navigation links for 'Organizer', 'Press accreditation', 'Contact us', a language dropdown set to 'svenska', and a link to 'The Swedish kennel club'. A secondary navigation bar contains links for 'Dog show', 'Shopping for Dog Lovers', 'Plan your visit', 'Trade stands', and 'Club shows', along with a search icon. The main content area features a large title 'European Dog Show 2026' and a descriptive paragraph about the event. A blue button labeled 'Sign up! Entry open' is circled in red, with a speech bubble pointing to it that says 'Click "Sign up! Entry open"'. Below this is a link for 'Entry information, fees & dates'. The background of the main section shows three dogs and the text 'it's a dog thing!'. At the bottom, there are three yellow boxes with the titles 'List of judges', 'Register your foreign-owned dog', and 'Rules and regulations', each followed by a short paragraph of text.

Continue by choosing if you are a Swedish exhibitor or a foreign exhibitor.

Swedish exhibitors

A Swedish exhibitor is resident in Sweden, with a dog which is registered in Sweden. Please note: a Swedish owner cannot own a foreign-registered dog. Swedish-owned dogs should always be registered with Svenska Kennelklubben (the Swedish Kennel Club). If a dog is owned by a person living outside Sweden but the dog is temporarily staying in Sweden and will be shown by someone resident in Sweden, it must be entered under "Foreign exhibitor". For more information, see below.

Foreign exhibitors

If a dog is owned by a person resident in a country other than Sweden, it should be entered under "Foreign exhibitor". Those dogs which are temporarily staying in Sweden should be entered here, providing the name of the foreign owner and the Swedish c/o address at which the dog is staying.

Important information before you begin

Dogs which were born in Sweden must be entered using their original Swedish registration number, e.g. SE11111/2010.

If the dog has previously competed in Sweden, the dog will already be in the SKK database. You can check this by searching by name or registration number. We recommend that you search by name, since the registration number may appear differently in our database than on the dog's pedigree – see example below.

If a foreign exhibitor's dog is not already in the SKK database, you add your dog through the SKK online service at the following link at the latest 2-3 days before you want to enter your dog: hundur.skk.se/ocompete. Once the dog is included in the SKK database you can enter your dog via the SKK On-line entry ("EDS2026").

In SKK's dog register/database, all registration numbers begin with one or more letters. This is normally an abbreviation for the relevant kennel club's breed registry.

For example dog registered in:	Norway	NO12345/19
	Finland	FI12345/19
	Denmark	DK12345/2023
	France	LOF123456 or LOF123456/12346
